This instrument was delivered on 11 August and is being evaluated in the operational area. Contractor's performance was satisfactory.

An overrun of at least $2000 is anticipated. This is due primarily to a change in the illumination system.

This instrument was inspected on 16 July and accepted for delivery as soon as several minor modifications are completed. Delivery is scheduled for the week of 3 August.

An overrun of at least $2000 is anticipated. This is due primarily to a change in the illumination system.

The illumination system and the stability of the instrument is a great improvement over the original unacceptable prototype.
